2022 CURRENT OPERATIONAL RESPONSE

IOM UN MIGRATION

Millions of people are experiencing alarming rates of acute malnutrition and food insecurity, and most of the population is in need of humanitarian assistance. Humanitarian needs are driven by the conflict, disease, a declining economy, and the breakdown of public institutions, and have been compounded by the COVID-19 pandemic. An estimated 160,000 people were reportedly displaced in 2021 alone as active frontlines shifted and hostilities escalated in Ma'rib and areas along Yemen's west coast. Without a peaceful resolution of the conflict, the severity of needs and suffering is expected to worsen across the country in 2022. Despite the current crisis, migrants continue to arrive in Yemen, most hoping to find work in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Many have become stranded in Yemen and experience abuse and exploitation on their journeys.

The International Organization for Migration (IOM) has well-established offices in Sana'a, Aden and Ma'rib and in 2021 opened a new office in Al Makha in the west coast region. IOM supports vulnerable groups throughout Yemen, including displaced people, conflict-affected communities and migrants. The Organization directly implements a multi-sector humanitarian response, namely health, water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH), shelter, non-food item (NFI) and cash-based assistance, camp coordination and camp management (CCCM), protection and displacement tracking (DTM). IOM Yemen's priority is to maximize the impact of its programmes for beneficiaries and ensure an accountable response.

WASH | WATER, SANITATION & HYGIENE

Restoring and maintaining water and sanitation systems and providing WASH services to support the health and well-being of communities.

HEALTH |

Expanding access to primary health care services and providing medical and technical support to static and mobile health clinics and hospitals.

TR | TRANSITION AND RECOVERY

Supporting the recovery of conflict-affected populations through rehabilitating and constructing vital infrastructure, enhancing livelihood opportunities and building local capacity to resolve community-level conflicts.

RMMS | REFUGEE & MIGRANT MULTI-SECTOR

Cluster lead. Providing life-saving, multi-sectoral assistance to vulnerable migrants, including voluntary humanitarian return (VHR).

PILLARS OF INTERVENTION

Meet humanitarian needs with lifesaving assistance

Implementing and coordinating lifesaving humanitarian response programming, focusing on immediate efforts to assist the most vulnerable individuals and communities.

Promote community stability by addressing drivers of conflict

Strengthening local conflict resolution capacities to reduce the level of conflict and build towards peace and sustainable recovery.

Enhance community resilience

Rehabilitating key public service infrastructure and supporting socioeconomic integration and capacity building opportunities.
